PARENTS IN FIGHT TO FIND CURE FOR CHILD'S TUMOUR

Daughter Kaleigh, six, could have only months to live

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

A MUM and dad have started a petition calling on the Government to fund more research into a rare but fatal brain tumour which could claim their daughter's life.

Scott Lau and his wife Yang face a race against time to save six-year-old Kaleigh who was diagnosed with diffuse intrinsic pontine glioma (DIPG) in April.

Mr Lau is reaching out to Harlow as all the family, including son Carson, four, were born at Princess Alexandra Hospital, both parents studied in Harlow schools and their respective parents live in the town.

Kaleigh attends Harlow Chinese School at the Community Centre but the family moved to Woodford Green for work.

Inoperable

DIPG is inoperable as it grows in the middle area of the brainstem and there is no effective treatment or known cure.

Primarily affecting children between five and ten years old, DIPG is considered the most deadly brain tumour as 99 per cent of sufferers will die.

The average survival time from diagnosis is nine months. Kaleigh has had the tumour for five months.

Mr Lau, 40, said: "You can't operate on it and you can't just take out the tumour as it is interwoven with HOPEFUL: Scott, Kaleigh, Carson and Yang Lau are searching for treatment for their six-year-old daughter all of the nerves in the brain.

"There is no treatment or funding (from the NHS). The only recognised way is radiotherapy and this goes back 50 years to the days of Neil Armstrong, whose daughter had DIPG. We are getting the same treatment in 2016."

Around 40 people are diagnosed every year in the UK and Mr Lau said the number of sufferers is too low for expensive research to be financially viable for health companies.

Treatment options are limited as a specialist centre in Bristol has recently closed and the family is considering options abroad for Kaleigh.

Common symptoms for DIPG sufferers include persistent headaches, blurred vision, vomiting, coordination problems, behaviour changes, fits or seizures and abnormal head position.

"She said she had double vision," Mr Lau said about their experience in April. "She was healthy up to that day. We phoned an optician friend and he recommended to go to the eye hospital and there we found out what it was. We were lost for words

Jail for man who tried to slash police with a knife

A MAN who attempted to slash at police with a knife in Felmongers, Harlow, has been jailed for nine months.

Pellumb Gashi, 45, tried to escape from officers by jumping out of a window but was arrested and later sentenced after he pleaded guilty to affray.

Officers were called to the property in Felmongers at around 1.30pm on February 29 to reports from neighbours of a disturbance.

On arrival police heard a woman in distress and forced their way inside.

Gashi, of Stoke Newington Road, London, then confronted the officers with a knife and made slashing movements towards them.

As he escaped towards a window to evade capture officers grabbed his leg to stop him falling but lost grip and the man fell.

Restraining order

Gashi later pleaded guilty to two counts of affray and was sentenced to nine months in prison for each offence with the sentences to run concurrently.

He was also handed a restraining order against the victim.

Detective Constable Leo Fordham said: "With the jailing of Pellumb Gashi we have managed to get another person off the streets who posed a threat to others."

"I want to praise the officers involved who stepped into a potentially dangerous situation to help someone obviously in distress."

"I hope this result will provide some closure to the victim and reassurance to the public that we will not tolerate this type of action, and anyone threatening violence will be dealt with."

We should be making friends says Prince

A POLISH aristocrat, who once challenged Nigel Farage to a duel, said Harlow's interracial communities should focus on making friends.

Property developer and former Mayor of London candidate Prince John Zylinski visited the town last week to mark the death of Polish national Arkadiusz Jozwik.

In his self-appointed role as a community figurehead the prince visited Mr Jozwik's friends and family.

He said: "There might be a wave of hatred towards Poles after Brexit but we have observed a tidal wave of love from English people.

"The police are working hard and doing the job properly in what I believe to be a hate crime.

"I spoke to Eric Hind, the organiser of a silent march (in memory of Mr Jozwik), and I spoke to members of family of the deceased. I listened to their story and tried to encourage them.

FIGHTING TALK: Prince John Zylinski is engaged in a diplomatic battle

"When someone from a family dies everybody is devastated all round.

"I have been a property developer but two years ago I decided that I would start working to protect my people over here. This is what a prince is meant to do."

Prince Zylinski was born in Lewisham after his aristocratic family was forced to flee Poland during the communist takeover in the Second World War. He polled 13,000 votes in this year's London mayoral election.

He continued: "There are quite a few towns in the home counties like Harlow. I feel it's a town where everybody needs to make a lot more effort to make friends with each other. European negotiations look like it will be possible for Europeans to stay in the UK and there are thousands of Polish in Harlow who are here for keeps.

"It's painful for everybody to have a divided community."

Witnesses respond to release of CCTV stills

Police continue investigation into death of Polish man

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

SEVERAL witnesses have come forward to help Essex Police's investigation of the incident that led to Arkadiusz Jozwik's death.

Police released an initial 14 CCTV images identifying residents they wished to speak to after Mr Jozwik and two other men were assaulted around 11.35pm on Saturday, August 27 at The Stow, Harlow.

Mr Jozwik, known as Arek, was outside TGF Pizza takeaway when he received a single punch to the face, causing him to fall backwards and bash his head on the ground.

He died on Monday, August 29 at Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge after being transferred from Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Post mortem examinations established his cause of death as a head injury.

Mr Jozwik was a 40-year-old Polish national who had moved to Harlow four years ago. Six teenagers were arrested and later bailed as a murder investigation continues.

Detective Chief Inspector Martin Pasmore, of Kent and Essex Serious

IMAGES: CCTV stills have been released in the appeal for information

Crime Directorate, said: "Arek Jozwik was a hard working family man who lost his life in the most tragic and brutal way.

"We are investigating his murder as a hate crime but there are other lines of enquiry that we need to look at and the information you can give us could be vital."

Police later removed all but five images of potential witnesses from their distribution and said several people had come forward.

DCI Pasmore added: "From viewing CCTV we know that Arek and two friends went to TGF Pizza takeaway in The Stow, Harlow, at about 11.10pm and ordered a pizza.

"They then went outside and spoke with a group of youths as well as other passers-by for up to about 20 minutes. The atmosphere then changed and there was a verbal argument.

"It is during this altercation that

Arek receives a single punch to the face, causing him to fall backwards and bang his head on the ground.

"There followed a short scuffle between Arek's friends and a few other people, before the suspects leave the scene.

"Arek died the following Monday and a post mortem examination has established a provisional cause of death as a head injury."

Mr Jozwik's death has prompted a large scale local response with the Polish and Harlow community joining for a march of silence in his memory two weeks ago.

As murder investigations continue officers are still appealing for more witnesses to come forward.

A police spokesman added: "A number of witnesses have already come forward following the release of the CCTV images.

"We are still keen to speak to anyone who was in the area between 10pm and midnight that Saturday as they may have seen what happened or have vital information."

Anyone with information should contact Harlow Major Investigation Team on 101 or contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555111 or www.crimestoppers-uk.org.

Residents share antisocial concerns at town meeting

CONCERNS of antisocial behaviour and hate crime were shared by residents in a town meeting Essex Police hailed as productive.

The community gathering was called after the death of Polish national Arkadiusz Jozwik following an assault in The Stow in August while two other Polish men were assaulted in Kitson Way last week.

Jane Gardner, deputy Police and Crime Commissioner for Essex, attended the meeting while town MP Robert Halfon and Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner joined the 40 residents present.

Chief Superintendent Sean O'Callaghan, who led the meeting, said: "It was a positive meeting. We heard from members of the public about their experiences of antisocial behaviour and hate crime and I spoke to a number of residents individually after the meeting about their specific concerns.

"I want to reassure the community that we do take these matters seriously and are committed to tackling the problems you have been facing."

CS O'Callaghan said police will work with Harlow Council to tackle wider issues of antisocial behaviour.

He added: "We assess all reports of antisocial behaviour and base our response in each case on the level of threat, risk and harm it presents. We will attend where victims are vulnerable or have been subject to repeated problems or harassment.

"There may be cases that do not require a police presence or where other agencies have a responsibility.

"However, we will still use the information you provide to build up a picture of any recurring issues so that we can target our patrols and find the best way to tackle the problem."

Musician records EP – but it is not a number

Track is in tribute to favourite TV show on its 50th birthday

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW musician has recorded an EP in tribute to his favourite television series, The Prisoner, on its 50th birthday.

Karl Heard, 46, of Potters Field, has always been a fan of the psychological drama, which has become a cult classic since airing for 17 episodes on ITV in 1967 and 1968.

The father of three recently went on holiday in the Portmeirion, North Wales, where the series was filmed from September 1966. He even stayed in the same hotel room title star Patrick McGoochan lodged in while The Prisoner was filmed.

"I have been a huge fan of The Prisoner all my life, mostly because of my uncle Donald, who was living in Portmeirion at the time it was filmed," he said.

Extras

"He and most of the people living in the village were asked to be extras and there was filming every day.

"He told me many wonderful stories about the making of the show. I went and visited Portmeirion this summer, and it hasn't changed since they filmed The Prisoner. It is a magical place unlike any other."

The Prisoner follows an anonymous former secret agent, played by Patrick McGoochan, known only as number six, who is abducted and held prisoner.

The show was considered ahead of its time by blending the thriller genre with fantasy and science fiction.

PRISONER TO MUSIC: Karl Heard has recorded songs in tribute to his favourite television series

Mr Heard, a professional musician, has previously featured in The Star for his journey around London on a Sinclair C5 and with his experience of seeing UFOs in Harlow.

He continued: "Whilst on holiday, I happened to have my guitar and keyboard with me. I wrote a song inspired by my visit and by The Prisoner."

"As soon as I returned I drafted in another Harlow musician, guitarist Steve Boyle, and we recorded the song in my studio. It is called I Am Not A Number, which is what number six always said, as in the show they call everyone by a number and not their name."

Mr Heard sent the song to a fan website dedicated to The Prisoner, where it was picked up by American DJ Steven Barber from AiiRadio, who ironically played the song six times on his show.

"I have since had to make the song available for download to satisfy demand," Mr Heard added.

"I have gone back into the studio with Steve Boyle and recorded a whole EP of The Prisoner-inspired songs.

"We even filmed a music video in Portmeirion. If all this wasn't enough, I have even gone and got a prisoner tattoo to forever remind me of what this show means to me and my family.

"The Prisoner has been a part of me all my life and recently it seems to have taken over my life. But I am not a number."

VISIT: The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge

Academy all ready for a royal visit

THE Duke and Duchess of Cambridge will visit a Harlow school tomorrow as part of their work for mental health initiative Heads Together.

William and Kate are to attend Stewards Academy, Parnall Road, to discuss pressures faced by young people.

New figures showing a fifth of children will experience a mental condition by the age of 11.

The royal pair will join a lesson where older pupils mentor younger students, before attending a school assembly to hear speeches and performances from students on the topic of coping with changes.

Afterwards, William and Kate will be escorted by the academy's head boy and girl to talk to students and parents about how to deal with pressures, changes and expectations.

Parties unite against motion on planning

Councillors given extra time for debate

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

THOUSANDS of houses could still be built in Harlow after councillors pushed forward with plans.

Homes could also be built to the north and east of the town, but members of all parties united to vote down a motion to see the south and west of the town considered for further development.

At the marathon special council meeting last week Councillor Danny Purton, portfolio holder for environment, proposed the motion for Harlow Council to co-operate with neighbouring councils on the issue of housing to push forward with the town's long-discussed local plan.

Edna Stevens, chairman of Harlow Council, allowed extra time for councillors to discuss the motion and the meeting was not finished until after 10.30pm.

Eventually all voted in favour of eight agreements.

These included:

- Accepting projections of 51,010 houses in the Harlow, East Hertfordshire, Epping Forest and Uttlesford area

- Supporting the spatial option of strategic sites to the north and north east of Harlow

- Agreeing to seek suitable transport schemes to cope with growth

- Agreeing to ensure design features will comply with the Garden Town concept.

Spatial

However, almost universal opposition met a clause for the council to support the spatial option of strategic sites to the west and south of Harlow.

In opposing Mr Purton and her Labour group leader Councillor Jon Clempner, Councillor Emma Toal said: "This is not right, I will be voting for the removal of this clause."

Developer Hallam Land Management has published proposals for 2,500 new homes to Harlow's south and west behind Common-side Road.

Thousands of jobs were promised through the scheme which was said to offer new sports fields and protection for green spaces.

However, Councillor Andrew Johnson, leader of Harlow Council's Conservative group, said: "I want to remove this motion entirely."

"I am opposed to development to the south and west of the town."

Tory councillor Nick Churchill added afterwards: "Labour did try to change the wording of the paragraph but this was still unacceptable."

This clause was removed after a vote and the other eight were passed as part of the motion.

Harlow Council will hold further meetings to shape the town's local plan over the coming months.

STUDIES: Matthew Martino is focusing on his university work

Essex TV board member steps down

HARLOW entrepreneur Matthew Martino will step down from the board of Essex TV to focus on his university studies.

The 24-year-old, of Spinning Wheel Mead, Harlow, launched the channel in April as an online only service which could hit TV screens by 2018.

Mr Martino, who in November 2015 was named Essex Young Person of the Year, had planned to depart from the board and will take a smaller reporting role on the channel.

Essex TV has enjoyed early success with viewership figures of 100,000 reported in some weeks while in one programme the former King of Rwanda was filmed on his visit to Harlow.

Upon launching the channel Mr Martino said he wanted to challenge the Essex stereotype.

He tweeted: "Very honoured to have served with some very talented people. Wishing my successor and the team a great new era."

Essex TV is yet to announce the name of Mr Martino's replacement.

Sparkly new shop opens for business

THE first customer of a new Harlow jewellery shop is to marry his fiancée after buying an engagement ring.

Staff at F Hinds celebrated after Alyson Meek accepted the proposal of Mark Rapley the same afternoon he made the store's first purchase.

The happy couple then officially opened the first shop in the new generation of stores in the Harvey Centre alongside Harlow Council chairman Edna Stevens.

Andrew Hinds, company director, said: "We are delighted to have such a romantic story to celebrate our new store."

"I believe this is the first time our first customer wanted to make such a significant purchase to mark one of the happiest moments in their lives."

"We are delighted to have arrived in Harlow in the nick of time to help."

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young also attended the opening.

as we did not know what it was. But when we found out we were devastated.

"It took nine months to produce this bundle of joy and in nine months we could lose her."

Mr Lau continued: "She completed the recommended 30 sessions of radiotherapy in June and this reduced the tumour. Medics have said Kaleigh is the best patient they have ever seen with DIPG as she does not have any symptoms now."

"We are now in the honeymoon period before the tumour starts to progress again."

Mr and Mrs Lau are now hoping to find treatment but also raise awareness about the brain tumour.

They have started a petition to call on the Government to fund more research into DIPG. The petition currently has 13,100 signatures and needs to reach 100,000 before December 3 to be debated in Parliament.

In addition, supporters have raised £75,000 towards treatment and also to provide days out for the family to enjoy. The family will complete Harlow parkrun on September 24 on another fundraising drive.

Mr Lau added: "We have to continue. We have to keep the positive thinking going."

"We are thankful for all support and we will continue to be strong, as we believe no cure today, does not mean no cure tomorrow. We will keep believing."

Ice-cream man caught with drugs in his van

Police stopped 52-year-old twice on his round serving children

Court reporter

news@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN ice cream man has been sentenced after police twice discovered cocaine-based drugs in his van during his Harlow round.

Gaetano Palminteri, 52, of Lilac Road, Hoddesdon, was given a suspended jail sentence after pleading guilty to possessing cannabis and cocaine and driving with 800 micrograms of benzoyllecgonine in his system and 84 micrograms of cocaine on May 30.

He also pleaded guilty to possessing cocaine and driving with 376 micrograms of benzoyllecgonine in his blood on June 21.

Appearing at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on Wednesday, September 7, Palminteri was given a 16-week jail sentence suspended for 18 months.

He was also ordered to carry out 150 hours of unpaid work and 20 days rehabilitation.

Additionally he was banned from driving for three years and ordered to pay court costs of £200.

Paul Hole, chair of magistrates, told Palminteri: "There was a high level of drugs taken. And you were serving ice cream to children."

Denise Holland, prosecuting, said: "He was as high as the calibration can go."

"On May 30 he was driving a white Mercedes Sprinter ice cream van and stopped under the Misuse of Drugs Act and searched."

"Some herbal cannabis was found and a wrap later confirmed as 0.2 grams of cocaine."

"He was given a roadside drugs test and was found to be positive."

He was arrested and taken to the police station.

"Given a blood test and granted police bail, it was later found to be 800 micrograms and the legal limit is 50."

"There was also 83 micrograms of cocaine."

"He said he had been a regular user for the last few months."

"On June 21 he was stopped again and searched and a wrap found containing 0.9 grams of cocaine while there was 376 micrograms of Benzoyllecgonine in the blood. He was charged on August 9."

She added: "An aggravating feature is the fact he was an ice cream man selling ice cream to children."

The Italian has traded for 33 years and said he wanted to return to his home country.

Charlotte Mitchell-Dunn, mitigating, said: "His drug taking started as a coping mechanism when his father died of cancer but this has been a huge wake-up call causing significant change to his life."

"His mother is 75 and requires hospital visits but he can no longer drive."

Chas and Dave make return

ROCKNEY duo Chas and Dave are returning to another knees up at The Square in Harlow this month.

Following the pair playing a sold out gig in December, Chas put on a rare solo show in July to mark the Fourth Avenue venue's eighth anniversary of independent management.

And Chas was so impressed with the new modifications it wasn't long before he persuaded his buddy Dave to return.

The gig will be on Wednesday, September 28 from 8pm with support from The Free Electric Band.

Famous for their light-hearted comic songs in their own north London dialect, the Tottenham Hotspur supporting pair are as popular as ever despite debut album One Fling 'n' Anuvver being released in 1975. A 40th anniversary concert was held at Hammersmith Apollo in 2015.

Tickets cost £20 and there is a minimum age requirement of 16. Early booking is essential with the gig expected to be another bestseller.

For bookings and more information visit: <http://www.thesquareharlow.com/> or call (01279) 305000.

SHOW Racism the Red Card is looking to hold workshops in Harlow schools after the death of Polish man Arkadiusz Jozwik.

The national anti-prejudice charity has been teaching Essex children about the harsh realities of hate crime following a rise in reports on the back of the European Union referendum.

As part of a project with Essex Police called Show Hate Crime the Red Card, youngsters have been watching a film aimed at educating and dispelling myths.

One line of enquiry about Mr Jozwik's death on August 29 is that his attack on August 27, at The Stow, was a hate crime.

Steve Goodsell, southern region manager for Show Racism the Red Card (SRRRC) said the charity is looking to hold anti-racism sessions in Harlow schools after success in other towns.

He said: "It goes without saying that I am deeply saddened by the awful news of Arkadiusz

HATE CRIME EDUCATION: Show Racism the Red Card visit students at an Essex school

Jozwik's death.

"We are hoping to deliver Hate Crime and Anti-Racism Workshops in Harlow, to local young people in schools."

As part of Essex Police's Stop the Hate initiative SRRRC has delivered workshops to more than 4,000 students in the county aged between eight and 16.

A hate crime is any crime targeted at a person because of hostility or prejudice towards a person's disability, race or ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation or transgender identity.

However, in 2014/15 82 per cent of the 50,000 reported hate crimes were racially motivated. Latest police figures show a 49 per cent rise in hate crime from the last week of July in 2015 to this year.

Mr Goodsell added: "Our project has achieved great success. It has not only helped so many students and teachers have a greater understanding of what a hate crime is and the terrible lasting impact it can have on people's lives."

"But in demonstrating the positive impact of organisations such as the police and SRRRC working in collaboration it has got the message out in an extremely effective manner."

Volunteer leader is rewarded with award

A SCOUT leader from Harlow was given a top award for his help at the Essex International Jamboree 2016.

Richard Lawrence was one of ten volunteers from the town to help at the celebration at Boyton Cross, near Chelmsford, where 7,200 scouts and girl guides attended.

After the event Mr Lawrence took the prize of Staff Superstar for his hard work as a team leader on the Up and Under activity.

The volunteer learned the names of all his team members before camp started and persevered at making sure everyone locally and internationally felt welcome.

Toni Mitchell, district commissioner for Harlow District Scouts, said: "Enthusiasm and dedication has been recognised at this event and the competition for this award was very high."

"We are lucky to have such an inspirational leader on our team. Being a volunteer at this event is hugely rewarding and great fun."

Participants at the celebration had the opportunity to take part in more than 100 different activities.

Whilst sessions were designed to be challenging, they also aimed to highlight everything that makes scouting and guiding special.

Harlow Scouts are currently looking for new volunteers. For more information email: harlowscouts@googlemail.com.

Fundraising drive helps give auditorium a new look

William Mata

AUDIENCES will be on the edge of their more comfortable seats at The Victoria Hall Theatre which has undergone a refurbishment.

Managers of the auditorium in Bury Road, Old Harlow, started the fundraising drive last year to replace seats which were more than 20 years old.

It has taken a full community effort and 18 months of fundraising to stump up the cash, but last weekend Harlow MP Robert Halfon officially reopened the theatre ahead of their autumn season.

Martin Colton, chairman of The Victoria Hall Performing Arts Association, said: "It was nice to get the people down there who have been working hard and raising funds."

"We had a celebratory drink. Some people had donated more than just money, they had spread the word and got others to donate too."

The theatre is still short of the original £30,000 target but contractors agreed to help The Victoria Hall Theatre, which acts as a charity, under agreement the remaining balance would be paid soon.

An online Crowdfunding campaign fell short of the required amount after the initial 60-day push last year and Victoria Hall was not able to replace the seats in August 2015 as previously hoped.

Two rows of seats were installed last year but the full 120 have now been swapped. The old seats have been donated to the Church of St. James in Stanstead Abbots.

Mr Colton continued: "We have still got that last little bit to find and we are still reaching out for that last balance."

"It has really transformed the auditorium and the seats are a lot more comfortable now."

He added: "We are doing some events during the Christmas show to help the cause."

In brief

Thriller ball for hospital funds

A HARLOW mother is holding a Michael Jackson-themed Thriller Ball to raise funds for Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Kay Harvey, 47, who runs Sarah Kay Hair and Beauty salon, is supporting the Hamstel Road hospital's breast cancer clinical trials after her own battle with the disease.

Forever Jackson, a tribute to the King of Pop, will perform for the event held at Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych on Saturday, September 24.

For tickets call Kay on 07912 222112.

Sell unwanted gifts

RESIDENTS are invited to sell unwanted items at a table top sale held at St John's Arts and Recreation Centre.

Sellers pay £8 for entry and keep all proceeds from their table. All proceeds will go towards the upkeep of the centre in St John's Walk, Harlow.

The sale will be held on Sunday, September 25, from 1pm to 4pm.

Fun and games

BATTS Table Tennis Club in Harlow is opening up their match against London rivals Fusion to the public for a fun afternoon.

While fans can watch players battle it out at The Norman Booth Centre, in Elderfield, Harlow, on Saturday, September 24, the club is also offering games, refreshments and a free raffle.

The event begins at 1pm and there is free entry.

Feeling full impact of cuts

Sir, First of all let me say that my deepest sympathies go out to the family and friends of Arek Jozwik. I cannot begin to imagine the pain of loss that they are experiencing.

It would be wrong for me, while the police investigation into Arek's murder continues, to speculate about the motives behind the deplorable act. However, with another attack on Polish nationals in Harlow occurring only days later, it is understandable that the Polish community of Harlow are both shaken and deeply saddened by what has happened.

It is vitally important, therefore, that Essex Police are able to work with community groups in Harlow, including but not exclusively the Polish community, to ensure that residents feel safe and secure in the town. At times like this, we will feel the full impact of Government cuts to the police force in Essex. PCSOs, now few in number, would be ideal in building those links with local communities, while frontline police officers would provide a visible presence and allowing those communities to feel safe and secure once more.

However, let me make it very clear that the murder of Arek Jozwik and subsequent attacks were the actions of the few and not the many. The majority of people in Harlow are rightly appalled and shocked by what has happened and I know will do everything they can to make the Polish community feel welcome here.

Chris Vince
Labour PCC candidate for Essex in 2016

Not listening to residents

Sir, I would like to express my deepest condolences to the family following the tragic death of Arek Jozwik in the Stow.

The establishment was very quick to blame the UK's decision to leave the EU. The Polish ambassador and our MP all came to Harlow to express their concerns about the safety of Poles living in Harlow.

RETIRED Dave Higgins, who lives in Town Park, Harlow, submitted this great picture of a few long-tailed tits visiting his garden to bathe and feed.

Mr Higgins commented: "They only visit in the evening when it gets a bit quieter round the feeders as they are so small and tend to get bullied by the larger birds."

If you have a photograph you have taken in or around Harlow that you would like to be featured in the Star, email a high-resolution, landscape copy in JPEG format, along with a brief description of where and when it was taken, to kerigh.palmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please remember to include your name and address, and use the subject "Star POW".

The local people and other groups living in Harlow do not get visits from ambassadors or our MPs marching in solidarity when incidents happen to us, this is just a distraction by the police and our district council showing that they are not listening to local residents in the very important area of community policing, this was a tragedy that need never have happened.

The areas where Arek was killed and where the two Polish youths had a fight are well known as trouble hotspots, but the police and council are not prepared to provide a service that meets the needs of all local residents.

The council closed the neighbourhood offices. Likewise, the police have withdrawn our community police teams, got rid of most of our PCSOs and closed local NAPs (neighbourhood action panels).

I hope that the incidents that sadly have involved foreign nationals in our town will provide a spur to the establishment to not just talk to residents, but hear what we are saying and act now.

Sadly I do not think that either the police or HDC have the political will to provide even a basic service to its residents.

Mike Carr
Rundells

Thoughts on M11 proposal

Sir, Reading the article in last week's Star revealed that Councillor Clempner clearly supports the idea of a bypass around the town but is first prepared to degrade the quality of life for residents and waste millions upon millions of pounds on a three-lane road along Gilden Way to nowhere.

Otherwise why would he worry about increasing the likelihood of getting a bypass in the future, surely if the current plan approved by the council is so good then the bypass would not be needed?

Building a bypass on the south side of the town would be across open land, as would much of a build to the north: these would not cause the congestion that work along Gilden Way will cause. Also, should a southern bypass from Junction 7 be built as it progresses, drop-off slip roads to areas would enable traffic that currently comes in via the A414 Hastingwood, the Hamburger and Clock Tower Roundabouts, to get to the west of the town without travelling down Second Avenue and without passing internally across the town causing congestion.

It was a quick, cheap fix making a false saving that built the M11 on the wrong side of the town in the first place. The original route planned when the town was built was for a NS road to the west of the town.

Just as successive governments have been blinkered and short termist, they have totally failed to serve the population of this country with respect to housing for the last 50 years, so governments of both major parties have let us down with respect to roads, energy and technological advance.

This junction and bypass proposals are part of the regional and national motorway road network, and should be judged as such, whilst the issue of J7A remains a parochial issue rather than being part of a greater strategic plan, then it will surely fail just as Councillor Clempner unwittingly has predicted.

Fenton Grange, Church Langley

Other places still to clean

Sir, The clean-up of the outside of Terminus House is looking very impressive.

How about Joseph Rank House and the car parks next?

J Black
Harlow

Persistence clearly pays

Sir, For nearly 25 years, ever since I moved into my house in Seeleys, which backs onto the London Road, I have had to live with the huge lake that formed every time there was a moderate shower, and which covered half the road and prevented people from crossing to the post office. In the early years, I was informed by the council, along with my neighbour, that our back wall was dangerous and would have to be rebuilt. The cause was the incessant waves of water thrown up by passing buses.

We were successful in getting the council to pay half the cost of rebuilding the wall, as they had to admit liability in not getting the main culvert repaired. This situation has dragged on all this time, with workmen from Essex County Council periodically making attempts to fix the problem without result.

Since Essex county councillor Mike Danvers was elected a few years ago, he has made valiant efforts to get something done.

Eventually he contacted the chief executive of ECC, and a few weeks ago two lorries came down with red road signs and tape and left after digging up a rosebush. I thought that yet another attempt had failed. But when it rained after a three-week drought, there was no lake! Now people will not be splashed from head to foot by a series of buses passing. I will be able to use my side alley instead of walking across the grass in wet weather, cars will not have to drive on the other side of the road.

This is all due to Councillor Danvers's persistence. He should be up for an award of some kind.

Hagrid on TV again in world record try

Twelve stone Leonberger dog filmed for show

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

A TWELVE-STONE dog is back in front of a camera for his latest world record eating attempt.

Hagrid, a Leonberger, was filmed for CBBC show Officially Amazing as he gobbled hot dogs in his attempt to break his own mark for items caught by a dog in 30 seconds.

His owners Sarah and David Woodthorpe-Evans, both 55, took the gentle giant from their home in Old Harlow to Osterley House and Park in Twickenham, West London, to meet presenter Ben Shires.

Mrs Woodthorpe-Evans said: "They found out about Hagrid's record of catching 13 items and they asked us to come down and film for the day in Twickenham, as they wanted a nice background."

"Other dogs were involved too trying to break other records. We were there for ten hours, all sorts of things were happening."

"They did a lot of filming in slow motion where they had 150 shots for every second."

"It was interesting and enjoyable."

Five-year-old Hagrid is fed with two or three turkey carcasses or a kilogram of tripe every day.

His Harry Potter-inspired name derives from his thick shaggy coat while the family also have a much smaller Labrador-poodle cross breed named Hermione.

He is 80cm from floor to shoulder and 1.85m when fully stretched out.

Leonbergers are a cross between a great Dane and St Bernard but despite their size have a relaxed temperament to make an ideal family pet.

Hagrid set his record at a dog show in Birmingham last year but failed to break it on a previous BBC Radio Essex appearance.

SIZE MATTERS: CBBC host Ben Shires sits next to Leonberger breed dog Hagrid ance.

Mrs Woodthorpe-Evans would not disclose how many items he caught before the TV show airs in April next year.

She continued: "Hagrid had a great time, he got to eat lots of sausages and go swimming in the lake, which is his favourite pastime."

"We enjoyed it immensely too, it's nice to see the background for a programme, all the crew obviously have a ball whenever they do recording."

She added that there is a chance another television appearance may follow in Japan or America.

Her youngest daughter Carmen, 17, who named the dogs, was sadly unable to attend due to school commitments.

Mr and Mrs Woodthorpe-Evans have two more children – daughter Bridget, 21, and son Ross, 19.

In February Hagrid was used in publicity to promote the St Clare Hospice fundraiser Winter Walkies, which attracted a large number of entrants as a result.

International food shop can help to embrace diversity

SHOPPERS are being encouraged to swap their usual supermarket for a foreign alternative as part of a show of town unity.

Harlow councillor Waida Forman is calling on residents to visit an international shop on Saturday.

Cllr Forman said: "The last few weeks have made some in our community feel unsettled or vulnerable."

"Harlow Labour Party, Harlow Trades Union Council and More in Common Than That Which Divides Us groups are all seeking to reassure and support our local community, emphasising what unites us."

"We have organised a solidarity international food shopping day."

"We encourage everyone in Harlow to show their solidarity by shopping in our international shops."

The show of unity follows the death of Arkadiusz Jozwik and the assault of two Polish men in Harlow – both of which are being investigated as potential hate crimes by Essex Police.

More in Common Than That Which Divides Us is a collective pressure group.

Members unveiled a large banner with the message during a vigil in memory of Mr Jozwik at The Stow before a silent march through Harlow.

Cllr Forman added: "There should not be any 'them and us' as we are all part of one race, the human race. We have more in common than that which divides us."

Teenager used house to run drugs business

19-year-old jailed for cocaine offence

JAILED: Oscar Ossou

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DEALER who took over the home of a vulnerable woman in Harlow to sell class A drugs has been jailed.

Oscar Ossou, 19, of Pine View, Nottingham, travelled to Essex to sell substances and traded crack cocaine from the woman's house.

He was arrested on May 24 as part of Essex Police's Operation Raptor, a team created to detect and disrupt drug dealing gangs.

When officers called at the address to check on the woman and her partner, they spotted Ossou drop a plastic bag which was found to contain 70 individual wraps of crack cocaine.

He was also found in possession of two mobile phones and a three-figure sum of cash.

Ossou was arrested and later charged with possession with intent to supply crack cocaine.

He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday, September 6.

PC Jack Etheridge from Operation Raptor West team said: "Oscar Ossou is a member of a drug dealing gang."

"He travelled from Nottingham to Harlow and took over the home of two vulnerable people, using it as a base from which to deal crack cocaine."

"Drug dealing causes unrest in our communities and we will continue working to disrupt drug dealing gangs who travel to our county to sell drugs and cause violence."

"However, much of our work is intelligence led, so I would encourage anyone with information about drug dealing where they live to let us know by calling 101."

"Anyone who would rather not speak to police can call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111."

GLEEFUL: Performers are wanted for the 2017 competition

Singers invited to take on challenge

YOUNG performers are invited to enter a battle of the bands-style competition organised by The Jack Petchey Foundation.

The sixth annual Glee Club Challenge invites singing groups of eight to 30 members to compete for a cash prize of £5,000.

Young people aged 11-25 who live in Essex or London are invited to be part of it.

As well as free entry, groups receive free assessment, workshops and participation in a grand final at the Indigo in the 02 Arena in London.

The 2017 event is being judged by celebrities including TV and West End star John Partridge.

He said: "The Glee Club Challenge is inspirational. I have been in this business for 30 years and I am as inspired today as I have ever been by the fantastic groups we judge."

"It's not about being perfect and polished. We are looking for potential so come and show us if you feel you have it. Don't be shy come and do it."

The Jack Petchey Foundation helps to support young people achieve their potential and has invested £100 million in youth projects.

To enter the competition visit www.gleeclubchallenge.co.uk before Friday, October 14.

Family's scare on-board horror hit cruise liner

Fatal accident in Mediterranean leaves holidaymakers shocked

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FATAL accident brought a shocking twist to what should have been a family's relaxing holiday on the world's largest cruise liner.

A 42-year-old Filipino crew member died and four others were seriously injured on the Harmony of the Seas vessel in a lifeboat training exercise.

While the ship was docked in French port Marseille five crew were on-board the lifeboat when it became detached and plunged 10m into the water.

In the midst of the crisis three Harlow residents were directed around in a state of panic. Pamela Walker, her husband Steve Sifton, daughter Amy Watts, all of Bishop's Stortford, joined Pamela's mother Grace Walker, mother-in-law Phyllis Sifton and Amy's boyfriend Richard Goddard, who all live in Harlow.

Ms Walker said: "It's tragic. We were downstairs about to get off the ship when it happened.

"We got out of the lift to depart the ship in Marseille and all of a sudden medical staff with stretchers came running past with doctors in hot pursuit.

"The staff made us move out of the way while more and more staff were dispatched. There was an air of urgency which led me to believe this was not part of a safety drill.

"We heard a message saying 'level five lifeboat', but as there was a drill in place we didn't give it second thought."

She continued: "We were quickly put in a lift back up to deck five and told to disembark at the other end.

"We could see the ambulances arriving

TRAGEDY ON THE SEA: A crew worker of the Harmony of the Seas died during a lifeboat training exercise in Marseille at the ship.

"We returned two hours later to find fire crew leaving the ship."

The Royal Caribbean Cruise (RCC) company operates the vessel which measures 362m by 66m and can carry 6,700 passengers and 2,300 crew on 16 decks.

The luxurious liner, with 23 swimming pools, started serving earlier this year and was travelling around the Mediterranean from Rome to Florence, but will now be re-directed back to Rome after the tragedy.

After the incident on Tuesday the ship was due to return to the water yesterday (Wednesday) morning.

RCC expressed their sympathy on Twitter. A statement read: "We're keeping our colleagues and their families in our thoughts and prayers."

Three of the four injured were also Filipino and the other an Indian man.

Ms Walker added: "We were all very shocked.

"There is an air of disbelief this has actually happened. The staff are on their phones, probably ringing home to tell their families they are OK. There are lots of announcements over the Tannoy."

In brief

Closed school holds reunion party

FORMER pupils of Brays Grove School in Traces Road, Harlow, are being invited for a reunion party.

Students who began in 1961 will celebrate their 70th birthdays this academic year. The group previously gathered in the year of their 50th and 60th birthdays. Brays Grove closed in 2008.

The reunion will be held at The Potters Arms, Church Langley Way, Harlow on Thursday, November 10 at 1pm. There will be a buffet provided for £10.

Please contact Barbara Ludlam on 01245 349384 or Janet North on 01255 420458.

Service scheme

EMERGENCY services are celebrating the success of a new scheme where ambulance and fire crews attend patients in cardiac arrest.

Firefighters trained in basic life support are now being dispatched to medical emergencies where every second counts. Ambulance and fire crews have now attended their 200th emergency together since the co-responsive pilot was launched in May by East of England Ambulance Service. Of those calls 84 were in Essex.

Bus proposals

RESIDENTS have less than two weeks to have a say on Essex County Council's bus proposals.

County Hall is looking to make changes to public transport services and routes in Harlow may be impacted.

The consultation ends on Wednesday, September 28.

To take part call 03457 430 430 or visit surveys.essexinsight.org.uk/BusConsultation.

Walking rugby can help over 50s stay fit and active

FANS of rugby who don't feel up to crunching tackles are being offered a slower-paced version of the game.

Walking rugby sessions are for the over 50s and part of Harlow Rugby Club's initiative to offer all ages a way of keeping active.

Participants do not need to come from a rugby background to take part, neither do they need to know the rules of the sport.

Walking rugby is a non-contact game without scrums or rucks but teams of six or seven still score tries.

Ken Potter, vice chairman of Harlow Rugby Club, said: "With new developments under way and due for completion in May, and eight months of rugby ahead, this is a very busy and exciting season."

Participants are invited to try the walking rugby club with the initial sessions being free.

Sessions will run every Monday, starting September 19, at Harlow Rugby Club on Elizabeth Way from 6.45pm until 8pm.

Fences will remain

HARLOW Council has completed measures aimed at reducing the number of ticks carrying dog disease babesiosis in fields off Third Avenue.

However, fences which have cordoned off land from dog walkers since April will remain.

Babesiosis is potentially fatal to dogs and was not previously thought to be established in the UK before scientific tests confirmed ticks carried the disease earlier this year.

Town Hall began measures in August before a new generation of ticks develops. They will inspect the site again later this year.

RANGERS CLUB

CLEVER: Beau Jessup

NAMING a baby is something most people only do a few times, but a 16-year-old girl is responsible for the names of 200,000.

Beau Jessup, who lives in Gloucestershire, has set up a website for Chinese parents to choose an English name for their babies based on character traits.

So far, the teenager has made £48,000 through her project. She had the idea after visiting friends in China and being asked to pick the name for their baby.

It is increasingly popular for newborns to be given a second name, alongside their Chinese one, to help with future studies and business in English-speaking countries.

However, as parents are often unsure of Western traditions, Chinese youngsters often adopt names that sound bizarre to our ears. Chuckles, Blessington and Undertaker are just three examples.

This is where Beau stepped in to help. Her website, Special Name, matches English names to character traits. Parents click the gender of the baby and choose traits that are similar to its Chinese name.

An estimated 200,000 babies have been named through the service, which costs the equivalent of 60p to use.

CLOSURE ON THE CARDS: Twyford level crossing

Concerns over safety may cause closures

130 railway crossings at risk

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NETWORK Rail is proposing to close 130 railway crossing paths in Essex and Hertfordshire in a safety measure.

Parndon Mill crossing in Harlow has been formally earmarked for closure, despite being unused for 70 years.

Consultations are now being held to debate the proposals that could see the public right of way network changed in Harlow, Sawbridgeworth, and Bishop's Stortford.

But while there is a consultation arranged in Bishop's Stortford on Wednesday and in Newport on Thursday, there is no planned meeting for Harlow.

Bishop's Stortford and District Footpaths Association has opposed the plans amid claims that vital footpaths will be lost.

Daphne Wallace-Jarvis, of BSDFA, said: "These proposed closures will curtail traditional heritage routes which form part of our local freedom of passage.

"If closed and with no reasonable alternative options provided by Network Rail, cyclists, walkers, and local residents of all ages will be detrimentally and adversely affected."

Initial public consultations in June have led Network Rail to refine their proposals. The organisation insisted the crossings affected are only used by pedestrians, cyclists and horse riders.

The crossings facing closure are where a diversion either already exists or could be provided.

A Network Rail spokesman said: "Closing level crossings and diverting to alternatives will make the railway safer by removing the point where people can come into contact with trains.

"The closures will also help improve reliability and may enable separate future developments for faster and more frequent train services. None of the crossings in this proposal involve closing public A or B roads."

Richard Schofield, route managing director for Network Rail, added: "I'd encourage anyone interested to come along to see the updated proposals and share any concerns or ideas with us, before we put these forward under Transport & Works Act Orders early next year.

"The proposals include small changes to how people cross the railway and the closures will help us reduce the risks that level crossings pose, improve safety and reliability of the railway for the future."

For more information about the consultations visit: <http://www.networkrail.co.uk/anglialevelcrossings>.

No Saturday service for 392

TRUSTYBUS will no longer run the 392 bus service which connects Harlow with Hoddesdon on Saturdays because of low demand.

The Roydon-based company has not released a specific statement but said the service ran for the last time on Saturday as it could no longer be economically sustained.

The service will still run Monday to Friday as usual. There is no service on a Sunday.

The 392 begins at the Harlow Town railway station and passes through Bush Fair, Stewards and Paringdon Road and into Broxbourne and Hoddesdon before terminating at Rye Park.

It operates once per hour while Trustybus also controls the 410 service which runs to Hoddesdon and continues to Cheshunt and Waltham Cross. The 410 will continue to operate on a Saturday.

Carly survives ride for disabled child

Cyclist tackles London to Brighton for Jasmine

William Mata

william.mata@
hertsessexnews.co.uk

CARLY Snell had cycled only eight miles in training for the gruelling London to Brighton ride.

But while the 33-year-old from Upper Mealines, Harlow, suffered on the 54-mile ride to the south coast she was inspired to continue by the thought of helping a disabled four-year-old girl.

Miss Snell said: "It was painful. I won't be volunteering to do that again!"

"Ditchling Beacon, at about 46 miles, was the hardest. I just had to walk, along with 90 per cent of the riders."

"When we came into Brighton and saw the seafront I knew there would be light at the end of the tunnel."

"I did eight miles on the road a week before it and I don't think it was enough training somehow!"

"At the end I had an ice cold beer and a nap which lasted for three hours."

Miss Snell wanted to complete the ride to help her friend Sally Moxom whose daughter Jasmine has cerebral palsy,

RELIEF: Carly Snell was happy to receive her medal after her ride for Jasmine Moxom leaving her unable to walk.

Jasmine also suffers with visual problems and muscle spasms while she is often left frustrated that she cannot keep up with her twin sister Summer.

The Harlow family, who have previously appealed for help in The Star, need to raise £30,000 for a lifeline operation after the NHS withdrew their funding for it.

Miss Snell continued: "They thought I was a little bit mad but they were very grateful."

This new show by Dr Mark Baldwin is one of the Second World War's most fascinating stories - that of the Allied Codebreakers, who deciphered a vast number of German secret messages and used the intelligence gained to hasten Allied victory. The Germans had entrusted their secret communications to an ingenious ciphering machine, the Enigma, which was portable, easily operated, and could be set up in millions of ways. The codes were used and every one was changed every 24 hours.

The Allies gained invaluable information about troop and aircraft dispositions, orders of battle, U-boat movements, technical development, military intentions and tank and artillery strengths. It is generally reckoned that the intelligence from Enigma shortened the war by about two years. Dr Mark Baldwin has made a detailed study of the Enigma machine, the code-breaking work at Bletchley Park, and of U-boats and has built up a unique collection of slides which illustrate the main features of those important facts of the Second World War.

He has prepared an entertaining instructive show on this subject. The show is divided into two parts. It is followed by an opportunity for questions, then a hands-on demonstration of one of the very few surviving Enigma machines.

FILMGUIDE

Bridget is back

BRIDGET JONES'S BABY

COMEDY/ROMANCE (15) 123 mins

Director: Sharon Maguire.

Starring: Renée Zellweger, Colin Firth, Patrick Dempsey, Emma Thompson, Sarah Solemani, Neil Pearson, Gemma Jones, Jim Broadbent

AS CREATIVE pregnancies go, Bridget Jones's Baby has taken longer than most to come full-term. It's been 12 years since Renée Zellweger adopted a near-flawless English accent to portray the hapless singleton in Bridget Jones: The Edge Of Reason.

In the interim, writer Helen Fielding has delivered a third novel, Bridget Jones: Mad About The Boy, but it's her series of newspaper columns from more than a decade ago that fertilises this haphazard, yet joyful, stumble into motherhood.

The third film throws a warm, affectionate and frequently hilarious baby shower for characters we've grown to love and proves that Bridget may have (finally) dieted down to her target dress size, but she's no closer to achieving her Happy Ever After.

Director Sharon Maguire, who helmed Bridget Jones's Diary, and her clucky trio of screenwriters, which includes co-star Emma Thompson, are in a celebratory mood.

They bookmark the heroine's trials and vacillations with nostalgic flashbacks to earlier films reminding us of Bridget's infuriating obsessions and her fitful romantic dalliances with Colin Firth and Hugh Grant's paramours.

"I'm trying not to think I'm past my sexual sell-by date," laments Bridget, as she careens at high speed towards her 43rd birthday without a wedding ring on her finger.

She works as a producer at Hard News alongside old boss Richard Finch (Neil Pearson) and newscaster pal Miranda (Sarah Solemani), who suggests a hedonistic girls-only weekend at a music festival.

The gal pals descend on a muddy field, which Miranda pithily describes as "Sodom and Gomorrah... with tofu".

A late-night blunder into the wrong yurt leads to a spontaneous coupling with a handsome American love guru called Jack Quant (Patrick Dempsey).

A few days later, Bridget is powerless to resist the silky charms of old flame Mark Darcy (Firth), who is separating from his wife.

A pregnancy test at work confirms that Bridget is about to gain weight. If only she knew who was the father...

Bridget Jones's Baby opens with a blast of the heroine's preferred anthem of self-pity – All By Myself – before a choice expletive kicks her out of a fug and the plot into first gear.

Zellweger slips back into the title role with ease, oozing lovability, fragility and regret as she wonders how to broach the subject of paternity with her two suitors.

Dempsey and Firth are attractive rivals for Bridget's brittle affections and the script keeps us guessing as long as possible about the course of true love.

Set-pieces including a tussle with a revolving door are genuinely hysterical and Thompson nabs several of the best lines as Bridget's despairing obstetrician, including a zinging one-liner that advises expectant fathers against witnessing the miracle of birth firsthand.

Ignorance, like Maguire's rumbustious film, is bliss.

Bryan steals the show in gripping crime thriller

THE INFILTRATOR

THRILLER/DRAMA: (15) 127 mins

Director: Brad Furman

Starring: Bryan Cranston, Diane Kruger, Benjamin Bratt, Olympia Dukakis, Amy Ryan, John Leguizamo, Daniel Mays, Joseph Gilgun, Jason Isaacs, Elena Anaya

IT might have taken him until his autumn years, but Bryan Cranston is finally enjoying the recognition he deserves following his overdue breakthrough role as Walter White in the TV phenomenon Breaking Bad.

The actor, who received an Oscar nomination for his role in Trumbo earlier this year, is mesmerising to watch on screen, so eyes remain fully-focused on the action in The Infiltrator, directed by Brad Furman, as Cranston's in almost in every scene.

In this 80s-set drama, he plays Robert Mazur, a mild-mannered family man and federal agent who realises that, if they're ever going to make a dent in the world of drug trafficking, they have to switch tack and go after the money, which could ultimately lead them to the head honchos, rather than concentrate on relatively small-time drug deals.

Based on Mazur's memoirs, it details his transformation into Bob Musella, the larger-than-life businessman he creates in order to infiltrate the drugs world by offering to launder millions of pounds through legit investments.

Not only is he going after kingpin Pablo Escobar's Colombian drug cartel, including his second-in-command Roberto Alcaino, played beautifully by Benjamin Bratt, and the seedy henchmen that populate the lower rungs of the ladder, but also the seemingly respectable bankers who are willing to turn a blind eye to the origins of the money if it means they get to enjoy a profitable slice of the pie.

In this world, one wrong word and it's game over with a bullet in the back of the head or a knife in the stomach, even if it happens to be in the middle of a busy nightclub, so the stakes couldn't be higher.

Not least when Mazur's forced to pretend he has a fiancée after he turns a stripper down out of loyalty for his wife but doesn't want to raise suspicion in front of his crooked new contacts.

Mazur's colleague Kathy Ertz (Diane Kruger) is drafted in for the role. It's her debut undercover, and Mazur is dubious before realising they have the perfect opportunity to gather their new 'friends' under one roof for a glamorous wedding and potentially undertake one of the biggest stings in history.

Standout scenes include the moment Mazur's recording equipment is momentarily revealed in his briefcase and it's spotted by Escobar's money-man Ospina (Yul Vazquez).

If there was a quibble it would be with the final 15 minutes, which lack real drama and feel anti-climactic after the tension of previous scenes, but overall this is an intelligent, stylish movie.

There are strong performances from all, but Cranston steals the show, an Academy Award nominee playing a man worthy of walking away with a golden statuette himself.

The Keyboard wizard

MARK Bettis sees his Korg keyboard as his own box of tricks from which he can conjure some magic.

With the ability to play anything from big band to quiet piano scores the musical wizard is always guaranteed to inspire audiences to leave their seats and move onto the dancefloor.

The 43-year-old from Kidderminster last performed in Harlow 23 years ago but will play at Park Inn Hotel, Southern Way, on Sunday.

As part of the Dancing with Nostalgia show, organised by town music teacher Kevin Barr, audiences can enjoy a roast dinner within the ticket price with a game of bingo as an optional extra.

"It's going to be geared towards dancing," said Mark. "Anyone can come up and join in ball room dancing sections but there is all sorts of things and even rock and roll with some songs by The Beatles.

"I'm going to be putting in all of the popular stuff, all sorts of rumbas and jives and also some stuff by some crooners - that type of sound as well."

He added: "It's a real good cross-section. It's really catering for an audience that will appreciate music from an older era. Concerts during the day time are very popular with older audiences and a lot of venues are now putting on nostalgia events."

Kevin is delighted that such a talented musician will be playing in one of his shows which have been steadily growing in popularity. This edition will be held from 1.30pm to 5.30pm.

He said: "He will take them through an afternoon of nostalgia. It's an opportunity to get your dancing shoes out and there will also be bingo. It will be a wonderful afternoon.

"The sound is fabulous. When Mark comes down all the songs are done with their own arrangements and everything is 100 per cent live.

"He can do things we just dream of, but it doesn't get you down, in fact it is inspirational. You just come out and want to start playing music yourself."

Kevin is a full time music teacher with a difference in that he offers his pupils an opportunity to perform on a stage and learn from the very best.

Two of his finest young piano players, pre-teens Jessica and Charutha, will also be performing on the piano and keyboard while Mark takes a (well earned) break. The pair also have the opportunity to spend time with Mark before the show and pick up some tricks of the trade.

Kevin has also lined up a second keyboard-pro Rod Pooley to play a show at Park Inn in November.

"After the things that have been going on in Harlow we need some good news," he said.

"Many people have never seen a keyboard player live. Maybe as part of a band, but it's a rare chance to see a top player in full flow. He is one of the best in the country."

■ Tickets cost £19 each or £34 for two and are on sale now. For bookings and more details phone Kevin on 07590 928498 or visit www.kevinbarrmusic.wordpress.com/dancing-with-nostalgia

A spell-binding musical performance

HARLOW Playhouse's audience was as much under Carmen's spell as her on-stage admirers in Russian State Opera's entertaining production.

Bizet's famously tuneful 1875 score was done justice by spellbinding solos backed by a 30-piece live orchestra. Through song the plot told the story of naive soldier Don Jose who is lured away from his childhood sweetheart Michaela by femme-fatale Carmen's seduction.

The complexity of a Russian cast performing a Spanish set story sung in French to an English audience had the potential to be hugely problematic. But while there was the odd mistake in the French and blip in the translated surtitle, projected above the stage, it held together well.

Evgenia Gudkova was irresistible in the title role and Mihail Makarov played the emotionally-torn Don Jose well, while special mention should go to Elena Lodigina as Michaela.

A ticket price of £31 may also have been a put-off for some, but as it seemed, not many as a full Harlow Playhouse gave a standing ovation at an end to an enchanting production.

Russian State Ballet, a sister company, will perform Swan Lake at Harlow Playhouse on October 20.

Do I need to sign up in advance?
Please email pauloweneynon@gmail.com including your Child's Name, Date of Birth, School Year, Address and any medical conditions.

How do we coach mini rugby at Harlow?
It's about a kids centric approach so we put what they want at the centre of what we do. We ask them lots of questions, set them challenges and spend more time working in small groups on focused skills. What children learn from Rugby Union is Teamwork, Respect, Enjoyment, Discipline and Sportsmanship.

What do my kids need to bring?
Just turn up with a drink for your child and make sure they have trainers or football boots, shorts and a shirt.

How much does it cost?
This is a one off session just for fun so it is free!

Can I leave my child with you?
Sorry no, not for this session, please stay and watch the session this time.

Swinging men in yellow are back

THE Jive Aces are back in town and the undisputed kings of swing are sure to put on a party.

The six-piece is perhaps best known for becoming the first band to ever reach the semi-final stage of Britain's Got Talent when they appeared in front of Simon and co in 2012.

But the men in yellow suits have been carving out a reputation for more than two decades.

Their visit to Harlow Playhouse on Saturday will be their fifth trip to the venue and saxophone player John Fordham is looking forward to coming back.

"The audience is made up of real people," he said, "They are of all ages and walks of life. They all come for no other reason than they want to see the band."

All the band reside in Sussex these days but 52-year-old John is still an Essex man at heart having grown up in Romford.

His bandmates are Ian

Clarkson, on vocals and trumpet, Ken Smith, double bass, Vince Hurley, piano, Peter Howell, drums, and Alex Douglas who plays trombone.

John said: "We loved jive and swing so much we started a band and we used to go busking in the streets of Romford. That was back in the 1980s.

"It's been pretty consistent. This line-up has been established for more than 20 years. We have the occasional argument but we get on great.

"Now we have been all around the world. We still tour an awful lot, around 280 days a year we are on the road."

The Harlow Playhouse performance is on the back of a whirlwind tour of the United States where they have courted large number of fans.

"We have got a great fan base here and also there," continued John. "It's so big there. You could be touring for a year and just doing Texas venues.

"The swing dance scene is really big in America. There are a lot of dancers that come to those shows and I have to learn those tempos.

"But the performance in Harlow will be more of a stage show."

While John is primarily the sax machine he is also a master of the fiddle and clarinet while all of the band members are versatile musicians.

He added: "We are constantly on tour. I have been married to the same lady for 22 years and she has only ever known me as a musician.

"It was difficult at the beginning. It's not like a nine to five type of thing, it is a way of life.

"We have got a band bus and a bus for the equipment. I enjoy travelling from venue to venue and going back to places where I have been before. We see old friends and it is a nice experience."

The show at the Playhouse Square venue will draw from the nine albums the band has released.

This will almost certainly include their version of the Morecambe and Wise song Bring Me Sunshine which has amassed more than three million views on YouTube, won five major awards and remains the band's signature piece.

John said the band's material is half covers and half what they have written.

"Vinyl is coming back into fashion and we are planning to release a new double album on record which will also be available on CD.

"We do write songs quite often and we record pretty much every year."

Harlow Playhouse is a large venue for most touring bands but The Jive Aces aren't your typical musicians, having played at Buckingham Palace and the Royal Albert Hall in their time.

"We were already quite successful," said John of the time before their Britain's Got Talent appearance where they were on the same series as performing dog Pudsey.

"But the show has put us in front of a lot more people. We got booked into more places as a result.

"Some of the scouts from the show came to see us play and asked us to come on. We said no and that we were doing fine. But they really wanted us to come on and kept asking.

"It was not a massive change but a bit more high profile."

Tickets for the Harlow Playhouse show are on sale now costing £12 to £17 per ticket. The concert begins at 7.30pm.

OBJECTS OF DESIRE >with DONNA PRIOR

Shake it up

Every week we pick a different object and showcase some of the biggest, best and boldest examples we can find. This week we look to add some different flavours to your home. Take it away, salt and pepper.

Blinky and Inky better watch out! The usual bullies of the Pac-Man game are now readily available for some payback. Simply grab them from their position on your dining table and shake them all over in the direction of your meal. £11.50, www.yellowoctopus.com.au

This silver-plated watering can salt and pepper set adds a quirky touch to the table – the perfect gift for someone who loves to garden. £29.95, www.annabeljames.co.uk

It's time to play with your food! Whenever you want to salt your chips or add a sprinkle of pepper to your soup, wind these zebras up and let them race across the table. £9.95, www.red5.co.uk

These ceramic frogs have magnets in their noses, keeping them together when not in use. No need to kiss any more frogs! £11.50, www.yellowoctopus.com.au

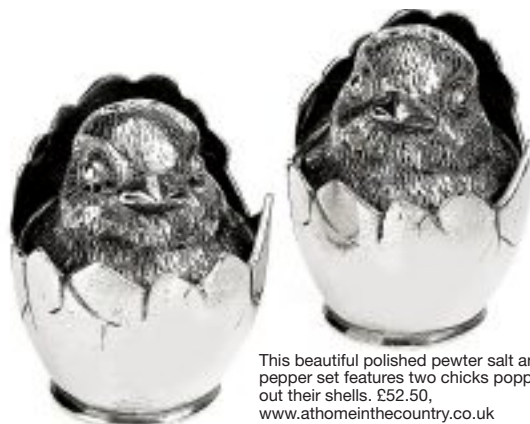

Get that American diner feel with these World of Flavours Stateside ceramic salt and pepper pots, Kitchen Craft, www.kitchencraft.co.uk, £5.99

These heart shaped salt and pepper sets are a delightful way to serve your seasoning at the table. £50, www.in-spaces.com

Keep it clean with these Boeien salt and pepper shakers. £18, asplashofcolour.com

This beautiful polished pewter salt and pepper set features two chicks popping out their shells. £52.50, www.athomeinthecountry.co.uk

Bring a touch of the seaside to your table with this quirky silver-plated seashell – conch and cone – salt and pepper set. £28.95, www.annabeljames.co.uk

This quirky little bee themed salt and pepper set features two delicate little honey bees, both positioned differently on each jar. £48, www.in-spaces.com

These award winning, unique salt and pepper shakers harness an unexpected element of fun: you must snap them broken in order to make them functional. £30, www.in-spaces.com

Do you really know
 the man you married?

“I urge you to take reasonable steps in order that you are equipped to enter
 what is, in emotional terms,
 a hard-hat area.”

Alice, a doctor and mother of two, tells the story of her marriage to a man hiding a terrible secret.
 Her feelings and fears are laid bare in a moving and honest way that will stay with you for a long time to come.

By Ian Johnson

THE Audi A4 has been a pioneer in lightweight vehicle technology since its appearance in the mid-1990s.

And it has certainly gone from strength to strength in the hotly contested premium saloon arena since those early days.

Competing in the marketplace against such formidable wheels as the Mercedes-Benz C-Class and BMW 3 Series, the A4, successor to the much loved Audi 80, just can't stop picking up awards.

Car of the Year honours just seem to come naturally to it, basically because Audi pitch the car at the right price and with the right mix of features and quality that make it a magnet to premium saloon buyers.

Up to 120kg lighter than outgoing models, the latest A4 is more powerful, more efficient and more intelligent.

Its hallmark is elegant design blending in with innovative control concepts. Here lightweight construction meets new, efficient drivetrain solutions.

The A4 saloon, in addition to its light weight has the best drag coefficient in its class at 0.23.

I drove one of the most popular choices, the 2.0 TDI 190ps S line which is an agile performer with 147mph on tap and a 0-62mph zoom factor of 7.7 seconds.

Its low weight and slippery contours help to make this all-singing, all-dancing upmarket choice achieve a combined mpg figure of 67.3mpg which is impressive for such a performer. And CO2 emissions are surprisingly low at 111g/km.

But one of this car's major features is an interior you just don't want to get out of.

Painstakingly crafted materials, supremely comfortable seats and quality everywhere sets the scene. The front of the dashboard features a broad band of air outlets and a large decorative surface. At night, optional discreet contour lighting illuminates the doors and the central console.

Worthy of note is the seven-speed S tronic transmission which is ideally suited to the 2.0 diesel to make for an utterly smooth power flow.

In formulating the new A4, Audi heeded customer feedback and made the car stiffer and more comfortable.

The suspension and steering filter out disturbances such as an uneven road surface, but communicate to the driver important information such as increases in lateral forces and tracking.

This performance is based on the redeveloped five-link axles and the electromechanical power steering. They lay the foundation for dynamic handling and first-class ride comfort while also reducing fuel consumption.

This car tipped the scales at £33,345, and a raft of the usual Audi extras bumped it up the £42,625, but in truth they made a special car great. These included a light and vision pack, Adaptive Sport suspension with damping control and a breathtaking piano black trim inlay option.

The UK's largest independent Nissan dealer group with 14 dealerships

Fuel consumption figures for Nissan LEAF: CO 2 while driving: 0. MPG: N/A. Offer valid until 30 September 2016 at participating Dealers only and subject to vehicle availability. Finance provided by RCI Financial Services Limited, PO Box 149, Watford WD17 1FL. Subject to status. Guarantees and indemnities may be required. You must be at least 18 and a UK resident (excluding the Isle of Man and Channel Islands). Terms and conditions apply, please visit www.nissan-offers.co.uk/termsandconditions or your local Dealer for full details. NISSAN DEPOSIT CONTRIBUTION OF £5,000 ON LEAF IS ONLY AVAILABLE WHEN TAKEN ON 5.99% APR PCP NISSAN FINANCE PRODUCT. Our Dealership introduces Customers to a limited number of finance providers including RCI Financial Services Ltd. We may receive a commission from the finance provider for the introduction. LEAF Acenta offer based on 4,000 miles pa, excess mileage 8p per mile. Offers not available in conjunction with any schemes or other offers. Vehicle price includes first registration fee and 12 months' road fund licence. MPG figures are obtained from laboratory testing, in accordance with 2004/3/EC and intended for comparisons between vehicles and may not reflect real driving results. (Optional equipment, maintenance, driving behaviour, road and weather conditions may affect the official results.) Always drive carefully and attentively. *Terms and conditions apply. Visit your local Dealer for full details. Information correct at time of going to print. Model shots shown are for illustration purposes only. Baby & Nursery Equipment

V-TECH Play & Learn Chair The
smile rocking chair features a host of features to help your babies development. It introduces your little one to a,b,c, 1-2-3 and colours. It allows sit-down play to rocking fun. Sensory stimulation in the form of fun melodies, sound and friendly voice encourage listening skills as well as enhancing visual awareness through bright colours and flashing lights. The development of motor skills is enhanced through pressing buttons. The songs on this encourage sing-along fun along with the new words and friendly phrases which aid language development. £10.00 own 01438

EPPING Forest Sportability— Epping Forest Sportability Club is a multi-sports club for young people with mild to moderate physical and learning difficulties, aged 5 to 19. We meet at Oak View School in Whitehills Road, Loughton every Saturday during term-time. We train between 10am and 1pm. The aims of the club are to provide opportunities for young disabled people to access sport and physical activity in Epping Forest. To provide participants/ members of the club with high quality coaching and sporting opportunities that will provide for their individual needs, To facilitate Gifted and Talented opportunities and to provide a support network for athletes within Epping Forest and West Essex. Participants should preferably live or attend school within the Epping Forest district but we do accept new members from the surrounding districts and boroughs. Current participants of the club have a wide range of needs and are of varying ages, making it suitable for a great range of participants. There is a small termly fee per member currently £50 per term, or £5 a session if you prefer to pay weekly. Some terms are more than 10 weeks in length so it does work out cheaper to pay by the term £5 07759 262493

Essex County Council

(Various Roads, District of Harlow (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) (No.4) Order 2016

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.
Effect of the order: To temporarily close the various lengths of road in the District of Harlow as specified:

Road Name	Descriptions	Alternative Route
Edinburgh Way, Harlow	From its junction with Howard Way to its junction with Cambridge Road, a distance of approximately 1659 metres.	Edinburgh Way, A1019, A1025, A414 and reverse.
A1025 Second Avenue, Harlow	From its junction with Velizy Avenue to its junction with A414, a distance of approximately 1870 metres.	A1019, Edinburgh Way, A414 and reverse.
A1025 Third Avenue, Harlow	From its junction with Velizy Avenue to its junction with Haydens Road, a distance of approximately 274 metres.	A1025 Third Avenue, A1169 Third Avenue, A1169 Elizabeth Way, A1019 Fifth Avenue, A1019 Velizy Avenue and reverse.

The closures are scheduled to commence at night to minimise disruption and will take place within an 18 month period from 16 September 2016 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting. Exact dates and time will be specified on <http://roadworks.org/>. Access will be maintained for pedestrians and emergency services. Diversion routes will be signed at each location and residents will be informed of the dates of each phase via letter/leaflet drop and advanced warning signs on the road.

The closures are required for the safety of the public and workforce while carriageway joint sealing and crack repairs are undertaken by Essex Highways. For all enquiries please contact our Contact Centre on 0345 603 7631.

The Order will come into effect on 16 September 2016 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Claire Petulengro YOUR STARS WITH

ARIES MARCH 21 - APRIL 20
Have you taken on more than you should? Maybe so Aries, but what is clear is that you're tired and you need to plan something this week which you know replenishes you and recharges your batteries. Legal links can go in your favour if you play things by the rules and don't cut corners. Ring now to hear how people from your past hold the key to future opportunities in work.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 348 65p per minute

TAURUS APRIL 21 - MAY 21
Relationships have and continue to take their toll on you. It hasn't been easy for you to deal with all that has been going on, but you are nearly out the other side, so try to keep the faith. Sales and purchases go in your favour from Wednesday. You also learn that someone from your past is sad to have let you go. Ring now to hear why it is that I think they did you a very large favour.

GEMINI MAY 22 - JUNE 21
You are living for the moment, but that means you may not be thinking about other people's feelings. Stop and make a sensible game plan for the week ahead so that you can see and feel the balance and harmony you and your close ones need. Travel plans are laid for what could turn out to be the trip of a lifetime. Ring now so I can help you see what and who you need in love.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 350 65p per minute

CANCER JUNE 22 - JULY 22
A financial set up will turn out to be a blessing in disguise and could actually help you to save money in the long run. Pride is stopping you from saying yes to something which, deep in your heart, you know you want to be more involved in. Take a breath and take a step away from those who are so heavily influencing you. Call now to utilise the quick thinking Mars can offer.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 351 65p per minute

LEO JULY 23 - AUGUST 23
A surge of energy in your chart can and will see you looking for fun and mischief. A setback financially actually offers you the chance to see new ways you can occupy your time and you make a friend who likes you for you and not what you can buy them or lavish on them. Ring now to hear why it's worth touching base with faces you haven't seen since before the summer.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 352 65p per minute

VIRGO AUGUST 24 - SEPTEMBER 22
Travel is the source of much excitement for you. Many of you Virgos will be faced with the chance to see things and places you've never seen before. A jealous mood on Thursday could see you saying things you will regret. Know when to bite your tongue. An ex wants something you do not need to give. Ring now to hear how the home is the centre for exciting announcements.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 353 65p per minute

LIBRA SEPTEMBER 23 - OCTOBER 23
Know you want answers, but I also need you to know that a slow pace is the key to you finding out what can really be offered. To rush things and to push close ones for answers can only see mistakes being made. Education is well started and this would be a good time to commit to further learning. Ring now to hear why I know you can embrace forced work changes.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 354 65p per minute

SCORPIO OCTOBER 24 - NOVEMBER 21
An alternative feel to your week should see you doing things you've never experienced before. A link to the past helps you feel as if you have come full circle regarding an emotional situation which wasn't under your control. A great week to kick bad habits and start healthier ones. Ring now to hear why it's worth saying yes to unusual get-togethers being offered.

SAGITTARIUS NOVEMBER 22 - DECEMBER 20
Your element of fire could see you accusing your close ones of things they have not done. Caution my friend, or they may decide to behave as the character you have cast them as. The home comes under the spotlight and can both cost and make you money over the course of the next four weeks. Ring now to hear how flirtations in work could soon become much more personal.

CAPRICORN DECEMBER 21 - JANUARY 20
You are approaching a much happier time in your life where you no longer worry what things look like to those around you. You are more concerned with how you and your close ones feel. Your ruling planet Saturn gives you the etiquette and class to deal with someone who has said and done things which split your circle. Ring now so I can give you a long term view in love and relationships.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 357 65p per minute

AQUARIUS JANUARY 21 - FEBRUARY 19
A trip you were beginning to think would not happen is given the green light by someone you didn't think was 'on side'. Someone you thought you could trust in business may let you down this week, but their failure is your chance to show how much you can shine as you do what needs to be done with ease and confidence. Ring now to hear how large gatherings spark a romance.
FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 358 65p per minute

PISCES FEBRUARY 20 - MARCH 20
The pressures you have been under in the home begin to lift. You start to feel more comfortable with dramatic announcements which were made. Try not to leave jobs half done or you will only leave yourself with no time to enjoy the fun which is on offer from Thursday. Your social circle widens and you get the chance to mix with more like-minded signs. Ring now to reveal more.

Rugby

Danny's boot does the damage for rugby side

Harlow begin season in style with West Norfolk victory

London & South East Division
Three North East

Harlow 48
West Norfolk 19

HARLOW began their London & South East Division Three North East campaign with a convincing victory against rivals West Norfolk.

West Norfolk are going through a transitional period and 23 points from the boot of fly-half Danny Smith helped the home side to a 48-19 victory.

Rob Mackie crossed the try line twice, with Scott Whitby, Dale Stalley and Kain Claridge completing the scoring.

The gap between the sides could have been wider if Harlow hadn't allowed mistakes to creep into their game before the half-time mark.

The home side had the worst of the conditions early on playing up the slope and into the rain, but they managed to put the young West Norfolk side under heavy pressure.

Despite occupying opposition territory for much of the opening 25 minutes, two penalties from Smith were the only points Harlow had on the board.

Chase

The last 15 minutes of the half saw 29 points shared between the sides, as both defences went missing.

Harlow got the first try just before the half-hour mark as good work from the backs allowed Scott Whitby to score in the corner, with Smith converting.

But they saw their lead cut almost instantly as Norfolk intercepted a pass and Charlie Moore's neat chip and chase saw David Harrison gather the ball and score.

Smith put another three on the board for the home side with his third penalty before a second breakaway try from the visitors made the score 16-12.

An exciting end to the first half concluded as Harlow full-back Rob Mackie was able to cross over for Harlow's second try, giving them a 23-12 lead at the break.

Only errors had kept West Norfolk in the game and Harlow cut them out after half-time to extend their advantage further.

Second row Marcus Twiner did well to secure the ball from a line out and drove through the line, before off-loading to number eight Kain Claridge to score.

Soon after Mackie got his name on the score sheet again after a brilliant run from Whitby had seen him crunch through two tackles before off-loading to the full-back.

Smith converted both tries and added further points from another penalty, before Dale Stalley went over for the home side's fifth and final try of the afternoon.

The inexperienced Norfolk side continued battling throughout the second half and scored a consolation try near the end.

But Harlow had the last laugh as Smith rounded off a fine afternoon with the boot, slotting a drop goal between the posts.

The second team travelled to Brentwood on Saturday for their first league game of the season against the Mavericks and came out 36-26 winners.

The visiting team took a fair amount of time to get into their stride and struggled to cope with the home side's expansive play, allowing the Mavericks to score two early tries.

The Rams responded late in the first half with two scores of their own from Dean Read and Calum Coyne, but succumbed to a sucker-punch early in the second half as Mavericks took a 19-10 lead.

The scoring was tit for tat for the remainder of the half. But with less than ten minutes to go the Rams were down 26-24.

There was only five minutes remaining when Harlow finally took the lead. Strong driving from the pack created an opening and Dan Evans was quick to pounce on the opportunity as the converted try made the score 31-26.

Debutant Tyler Howard finished the scoring in the final stages; sprinting down the right-hand touchline with half a dozen Mavericks in hot pursuit, but the youngster outpaced them all to touch the ball down in the corner and round off a good victory.

The third team also started their season with a win, coming out 41-12 winners over Whittle.

Running

Pages turn in great display

HUSBAND and wife runners David and Janice Page represented Harlow Running Club at the Great North Run in Newcastle on Sunday.

Janice led the way in a time of 1hr 57min 58sec, finishing the 13.1 mile half marathon race in 9840th place out of 41,287 finishers. David was just under five minutes behind in a time of 2:02:38, meaning he finished in 12,556th place.

Meanwhile at the multi-terrain and hilly Takeley 10K, Jamie Jephcott finished in 18th place out of 346 finishers in a creditable 41:22. He was followed home by Jon Steadman 53rd in 45:47, Vince Hayward 99th in 50:12, Pasquale Pellicchia 205th in 58:28 and Austin Nyamande 245th in 61:55.

At the Greater Cambridge 10K Catherine Ridge came 80th out of 480 finishers in 44:00 and Michelle Hyde was 175th in 50:40.

Ben Usher competed in the Woburn Olympic Triathlon, a 750m swim, 40km bike ride and a 10km run, and was 122nd out of 264 finishers in 2:42:49.

At the Harlow park run 5K Craig Segal finished in fourth place out of 189 finishers in a superb personal best time for the distance of 19:44.

He was followed by Terry Ridge 11th in 21:47, Will Wall 19th in 23:07, Graham Saville 25th in 23:44, Paul Dixon 26th in 23:57, Paul Schroder 27th in 23:58, Andy Smith 28th in 24:59, Spencer Brooks 36th in 25:59, Michelle Hyde 46th in 25:35, Debbie Barry 54th and first Female Vet 55 in 26:58, Louise Cootes 66th in 28:23, Hossein Erfani 82th and first Vet 60 in 29:45, Pushpa Mistry 98th in 31:13 and Jeff Mae 120th in 34:05.

Afewer Rossom also put in a fantastic performance at the Lowestoft park run, finishing first out of 145 finishers in 17:38.

Bowls

HARLOW Bowling Club had great success in the Lea Valley Regional Bowling Associations Finals Day on Sunday. The Elderfield based club picked up two trophies at the event and were runners up in two more. Steve Hawkins, Gary Kempell and Gary Colis won the triples event, with Kempell and Colis picking up the pairs title as well. Kempell and Sandy Cook were runners-up in the mixed pairs final, as the fours team of Jimmy Oakes, Fred Mitson, Terry Bird and Keith Lawrence also finished second. It signals the end of a fine season for the club as they won the Essex County Pairs and were runners up in the Fours. They also won the Walthamstow & District Simon Shield and the fours in the Walthamstow & District bowling finals.

THUMBS UP! Mazza Futsal youngsters after a training session

New club giving youngsters skills

Futsal

ONE Harlow football coach is honing the skills of a new batch of young sporting talent.

Mazza Futsal was created by Mario Petruccio earlier this year and provides children the opportunity to get involved in the fast-moving and ever-growing sport.

Originating in South America, the five-a-side game is played with a heavier, smaller ball than a regular football, while being indoors allows it to be played all-year round.

It is where some of the great 11-a-side players learned their skills, and Petruccio wants to guide other youngsters on the path to success.

He said: "I started the club in April because I wanted kids to have another sport option, to increase their creative confidence, develop social skills and to gain fitness and good health in a fun and safe environment."

"I'm a member of the FA Licensed Coaches Club and I also help coach grassroots for a newly-developing team of U9s for Clodan Youth."

"All of my sessions are for both boys and girls but if I do get enough interest from girls then I would love to start a girls' only session."

The sessions currently take place at The Barn at the Great Parndon Community Association in Abercrombie Way on Tuesdays between 5-7pm for U9s (Year 4).

But the futsal club are also expanding, with sessions to take place at Passmore Academy, starting on Thursday, September 29 from 5-7pm for U10s (Year 5).

There will also be training for U12s (Year 7) on Friday, September 30 from 6-7pm.

The first session is free, with the cost £5 after that and if you want your child to get involved you can contact Petruccio at mazzafutsal@yahoo.com.

Rio star Nicola brings golden touch to Hockey Fest

HARLOW Hockey Club kick-started their season with the annual Hockey Fest. This year's event featured special guest Olympian Nicola White, who brought along her gold medal for the evening. The Rio star, pictured above with club members, signed autographs, posed for selfies and let fans try on the medal. Hockey Fest is held by clubs all over the country, but England Hockey CEO Sally Mundy, who also attended the event, confirmed that Harlow was the first club to host an Olympian. "The evening was a great success," said Laura Hay, who organised the event with Benn Hagger and Rhys Mace. "Lots of new faces turned out with their hockey sticks, and having Nicola there was a huge draw. "Everyone is so proud of how the girls did out in Rio, and their success has certainly encouraged more people to take an interest in the sport." Harlow has two men's and two women's teams, and play their home matches on Saturdays at Leventhorpe School in Sawbridgeworth. For more information on the hockey club send an email to harlowhockeyclub@hotmail.co.uk

Chiassaro so close to 400m bronze medal

WORLD number one Richard Chiassaro was disappointed to miss out on his first Paralympic medal, as he finished fourth in the T54 400m final on Monday. The Harlow athlete was just 0.10 seconds outside the medal places in the searing heat in Rio, with a time of 47.17sec. Yassine Gharbi of Tunisia pipped Chiassaro to the bronze medal and he couldn't hide his disappointment at missing out. "Don't get me wrong, I'm glad I've placed fourth I just felt as though I should have had third," said the 31-year-old. "I had a wobble on the second bend as I went into it - I think if I hadn't done that I would have had the bronze medal. "The plan in the 400m was just to go out hard and get the time I did in the heat, if I had I'd have got the bronze so I'm gutted. "I knew the Chinese lad was going to come past on the inside lane but the plan was to use him to chase the rest down." Chiassaro clocked the fastest time in the world this year (45.98) at the Newham Parallel Success & Open Event in July. But his preparation for the race was disrupted as he had to change his compensator, a device that helps with the steering of his chair, just minutes before the race. As a result he started slowly and found himself behind after the second bend.

Strong

A strong final bend and straight saw him push for a medal all the way, but it wasn't enough to overtake the Tunisian. Kenny Van Weeghel took the gold for the Netherlands in a time of 46.65, with Yang Liu of China second in 46.79. Fellow Paralympic GB athlete and 2012 gold medallist David Weir finished fifth, 0.13 seconds behind Chiassaro. It was his first final at the Paralympics after qualifying through his heat on Sunday evening in a time of 46.68, which had he repeated would have seen him pick up the bronze medal. He still has three more opportunities to pick up medals in the Rio games after being included in the T53/54 4x400m relay race which he believes they have a great chance of winning. "We've got a strong quartet," explained Chiassaro. "We've got fourth and fifth today so hopefully that will put us in a good position for a medal." But he was concentrating more on his 800m heats where he is also world number one, which took place late last night (Wednesday), with a potential final at 4pm this afternoon (Thursday). Chiassaro will complete a busy week in Rio when he races in the 100m and 4x400m heats on Friday, and he'll be hoping to be in action on the final evening of Paralympic action with the T54 100m final one of the last events in the stadium on Saturday night.

CHAPMAN SEEKING POSITIVES FOR CUP

Hawks boss putting dismal Trophy display behind him

by Matt Storey

matt.storey@hertssexnews.co.uk
DANNY Chapman says his Harlow side will be taking the positives from other performances into Saturday's FA Cup second round qualifying game at King's Lynn, after a poor display at Waltham Abbey on Tuesday night. The Hawks were beaten 3-1 in the Alan Turvey Trophy game and although Chapman wants to win every game, he didn't expect that to have an impact on Saturday. "One or two things will need correcting before Saturday but I don't expect us to perform like this again at the weekend," explained Chapman. "It's going to be a hard game against King's Lynn. They play in the Evo-Stik Southern Premier which is the same level as us and they had a good result at the weekend. "I've said before it's not going to be an easy game and if we perform anywhere near the level we did on Tuesday night then we are going to give ourselves massive problems. "We'll get a report on them in the next couple of days to find out how they play. "But we're never usually a team that worries too much about the opposition, we like to concentrate on ourselves and make sure we prepare properly." Chapman made five changes against the Ryman North side as he gave some of the fringe players a chance to impress. Inconsistent Despite Abbey's inconsistent start to the season, the Hawks found themselves 2-0 down inside the first 20 minutes. Romaric Logon fired into the bottom corner from 20 yards after six minutes before a Spencer Harris header doubled the lead 12 minutes later. They got a goal back before the half-hour mark as Lewis Perkins bundled the ball over the line after a long Ibrahima Sonko throw, but despite seeing lots of the ball in the second half they failed to create many clear cut chances. Mario Noto saw his shot saved when through on goal and Lawrence Yiga stung the gloves of the keeper with a low drive. And the Abbots broke in the 87th minute to seal their win, Darelle Russell finishing past Ed Thompson after running from the halfway line. Chapman felt it was a poor game of football and that his side didn't impose themselves on their lower division opponents. He said: "I'm disappointed with the way the boys conducted themselves. "I'm not one for rotation but I wanted to give the boys who haven't had a lot of match time a chance to get some minutes under their belt. "I hoped that maybe they might be able to put a thought or two in my head, some did, but some didn't. "We were camped in their half for the second half without creating any clear-cut chances. We didn't deserve anything."
